

07 degree of Sagittarius: 'Cupid knocking at the door'

Is Love a knock of the spirit?

Let's not confuse this Eros/Cupid with the Baroque or chocolate box winged baby variety. The original Cupid was Aphrodite's son/lover/eternal companion/helper, always ready to do her bidding. The trouble was that his passionate arrows were often pricking the wrong person, either because of Cupid's own mischievous nature or via unfortunate accidents (acts of Providence or Fate). He even managed once to prick himself, falling in love with Psyche who his Mother hated and wanted dead.

Thus love was often cause for trouble, misadventures, misunderstandings, sometimes with tragic consequences. And so it is still today: we fall in love with the 'wrong' sort of person (sounds familiar?), who is the very one, though, who can help us sound our own depths, while unravelling the mysteries of another's psyche.
