

12 degree of Capricorn: 'A student of nature lecturing'

This image is about the passing on of knowledge from master to pupil. This is the wisdom of the organic, biological, chemical, atomic fabric of life in its infinite variety.

The teacher here is really also a student, a sign that nature's many marvels could never be intellectually mastered and classified in their totality, because a deep mystery always underlies our experience of reality. Even the geniuses amongst us will have the same trouble grasping it as any ordinary person. We are all just students of this wondrous book of life.
