

21 degree of Capricorn: 'A relay race'

The first idea that this image suggests is of a team working together. Like with the previous Sabian here too the participants need training to learn to run in unison, their sense of timing essential in order to win.

During a relay race one athlete passes the baton to the next one, as soon as his/her sprinting energy has been spent; the success of the race relying on keeping up the fast tempo.

One athlete performing well will not be sufficient to assure victory. Winning or losing will depend on the entire team, but also on each individual member. If one fails they all fail.

The image also implies fast paced activities, the initial enthusiastic dash, performed in turn by all athletes taking part, will decide the final outcome.

Key words: working together toward a common goal; sharing the burden of responsibility, taking decisive and speedy action to accomplish something.
