

22 degree of Capricorn: 'A general accepting defeat gracefully'

End of confrontations. We need to go on with life even while our pride and self importance may be wounded.

Humble graciousness is required now, to accept the situation as it is, and put the past to rest.

It is not just a case of agreeing to disagreeing but rather of accepting responsibility for one's wrong doings and be prepared to pay some price for the damage caused. The general's gesture also implies his willingness not to go to war again, avoiding those actions that brought the conflict on in the first place.
